

Get in pole position with the F1 range

Spotted Fin's extensive collection of GO2 F1 products covers everything you need from groundbaits to liquid attractors

AS THE name suggests, Spotted Fin's F1 range has been developed specifically for commercial fishery anglers who target FIs. With an extensive list of products available including loosefeeds, hookbaits and liquids, it really does cover any situation you're likely to face at any time of the year.

GO2 F1 SOFT HOOKERS

RRP: £2.99

Based on the successful Spotted Fin Match Expanders, these soft hookable pellets are plugged in attractive liquids to produce an irresistible hookbait.

While soft enough to be hooked directly on to the hook, they are robust enough to ensure they don't split or fly off on the cast. They also have ideal buoyancy and sink slowly giving fish at all depths the chance to take the hookbait. Suitable for pole, feeder and waggler tactics, they are supplied in pots with 'stay fresh' sealed lids giving them a shelf life of 12 months.

GO2 F1 PELLETS

RRP: £5.99

These high quality feed pellets will cover you for everything from soaking and moulding around a Method or Hybrid feeder to tapping in from a pole-mounted sprinkle pot or simply catapulting over the top of your hookbait.

Available in 2mm and 4mm sizes in 900g bags.

GO2 F1 HI-VIZ FLUORO WAFERS

RRP: £3.50

Bright hookbaits give feeding fish an easy target to home in on when fishing tactics such as Method/Hybrid feeders or bombs. There's certainly no chance of a fish missing these bright orange hookbaits.

of the hook so that it will waft around enticingly and then fly into the mouth of a feeding fish with minimal effort.

They can be threaded directly on to a hair rig or attached via a bait band or bayonet.

Available in 8mm and 10mm sizes.

GO2 F1 GROUND BAIT

RRP: £4.99-£13.99

The GO2 F1 groundbait comes in Light and Dark versions. Using Spotted Fin's F1 attract formula, they are packed with ingredients and stimulants that have been specifically designed to hold FIs in your swim.

It has an unmistakable sweet, peaches and cream smell – which FIs love – and it can be fished either on its own or mixed with other groundbaits from the GO2 collection.

While the Light is an versatile all-round bait, the more subtle Dark mix is perfect for pressured venues where the fish may have become more cautious of feeding over brighter piles of bait. It's also great in winter when water clarity is at a maximum and fish will become increasingly wary of lighter piles of bait.

Available in 900g and 3kg versions, the groundbaits are sold in resealable pouches so that you can keep them fresh between sessions.

How to mix

1. Slowly add water to the dry groundbait mix
2. Leave to soak and then riddle to remove any large lumps
3. Add more water as required to achieve the desired consistency

New additions to the Method Ready range

GO2 F1 METHOD READY PELLETS

RRP: £9.99

BRAND
NEW FLAVOUR

Following the huge success of Method Ready pellets, the GO2 F1 flavour has been added to the range this year.

These brilliant pellets do away with the need to prepare your micro pellets for use on a Method or Hybrid feeder, because they are ready to use straight from the tub.

Once cast out, they fall apart easily and hold their shape while breaking down slowly in the swim.

As well as for use on Method feeders, they are also excellent for feeding via a pole pot or fishing with PVA bags for species such as carp, tench and bream.

Supplied in a 2kg bucket and when stored properly they will remain fresh for up to six months, meaning one tub will last you multiple sessions.

GO2 F1 METHOD READY BAIT SOAK

RRP: £4.99

Made with the same technology as used in the Method Ready Pellets, these handy pellet soaks enable you to turn standard fishery-only pellets into a Method-ready bait.

Simply pour over your pellets (there's no need to mix with water or any other liquids) and leave to soak before fishing.

The liquid has a mild preservative which means that any pellets not used during the session will last for a few weeks if stored in a fridge.

GO2 F1 LIQUID FOOD

RRP: £6.99

Liquids are an excellent edge to quickly add attraction to baits such as pellets, groundbaits and expanders and give yourself an advantage over those around you.

This super sweet liquid, which smells of peaches and cream, has the added advantage of not being oil based, meaning that it can be used effectively all year round. Supplied in a 250ml bottle.
